

EQUAL VOTING AMENDMENT HAS BEEN DEFEATED

Johnson Amendment Defeated in Senate By 40 to 38.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, Oct. 27.—The Johnson amendment to the peace treaty, proposing in effect that the voting power of the United States in the league of nations be increased to equal that of Great Britain and her dominions, was rejected today by the senate.
The vote was 38 for the amendment and 40 against it.
How the Vote Stood.
The roll call follows:
For adoption:
Republicans—Ball, Borah, Brandegee, Capper, Cummins, Curtis, Dillingham, Fall, France, Frelinghuysen, Gronna, Harding, Johnson of California, Knox, LaFollette, Lenroot, Lodge, McCormick, McLean, Moses, New, Newberry, Norris, Page, Penrose, Phipps, Poindexter, Sherman, Smoot, Spencer, Sutherland, Townsend, Wadsworth and Warren—38.
Democrats—Gore and Shields. Total 38.
Against adoption:
Republicans—Cott, Edge, Hale, Kellogg, Keyes, McCumber, McNary, Nelson and Sterling—9.
Democrats—Bankhead, Chamberlain, Culberson, Dial, Fletcher, Gay, Gerry, Harris, Harrison, Henderson, Hitchcock, Jones of New Mexico, King, Kitchell, McKellar, Myers, Nugent, Overman, Pomerene, Ramsdell, Robinson, Shepard, Simmons, Smith of Arizona, Smith of Maryland, Swanson, Thomas, Trammell, Underwood, Walsh of Montana, and Williams—31.

The vote came unexpectedly during a lull in the debate and while several senators who had intended to speak were absent. Senator Hitchcock, the administration leader, had asked that 1:30 p. m. be set for the roll call, but Republican Leader Lodge said he saw no reason why it should be delayed.

After the result had been announced Senators Smith, Georgia, Ashurst, Arizona, and Phelan, California, democrats, announced that they had been present they would have voted against the amendment. Senator Phelan said he would support a reservation on the same subject.

When the Moses amendment also dealing with voting power in the league was taken up, Senator Shields, democrat, Tennessee, offered a substitute. There were indications, however, that a final vote would be reached before adjournment today.

Of the eighteen senators not voting, Senator Walsh, democrat of Massachusetts, voted for the Johnson amendment, but later withdrew his vote in the absence of his pair, Senator Stanley, democrat, of Kentucky, who opposed the amendment.
Others absent or paired and not voting were:
For adoption: Senator Calder, republican, New York; Reed, democrat, of Missouri; Elkins, republican, of West Virginia; Fernald, republican, of Maine and Watson, republican of Indiana.
Against: Ashurst, democrat, of Arizona; Beckham, democrat, of Kentucky; Johnson, democrat, of South Dakota; Kendrick, democrat, of Wyoming; Martin, democrat, of Virginia; Owen, democrat, of Oklahoma; Phelan, democrat, of California; Pittman, democrat, of Nevada; Smith, democrat, of Georgia; Smith, democrat, of South Carolina; Wolcott, democrat, of Delaware.

LITTLE BOY HIT BY AUTO AT NOON; NOT BADLY HURT

Dwight Thompson, seven year old son of Dr. and Mrs. Willard Thompson, received serious injuries in an automobile accident which took place near the corner Third street and Hennepin avenue a few minutes before noon today. The little fellow was on his way home from school and was crossing the street when a Ford touring car, driven by Edward Burkett, rural mail carrier, struck him, knocking him down on the paving, the front wheel of the car passing over his head.
The driver of the car stated that he noticed the boy crossing the street ahead of him and made every effort to stop the car. His wheels slid a distance of between 25 or 30 feet, Mr. Burkett told the police. The boy was bleeding freely from a deep laceration on the forehead and was hurried to the hospital where he was taken to the operating room. Examination disclosed the deep cut on the forehead, a suspected fracture of the right orbit and numerous bruises about the body and legs. At a late hour this afternoon the little fellow was resting as comfortably as could be expected.

WATER METER CASE CONTINUED A WEEK

Officials of the City of Dixon and the Dixon Water company were advised late Saturday afternoon that the appeal of the city from a ruling of the Public Utilities Commission regarding installation of water meters here, which had been set for hearing in the Circuit Court of Sangamon county today had been continued until Nov. 6. ## 200 Dixon Kiddies Kept Out of School By Lack of Clothes

With the cold months of winter rapidly closing in, more than 200 children in Dixon of school age are not attending the schools on account of the lack of necessary clothing. This astonishing fact was made known at the meeting of the Parent-Teachers' association meeting Thursday evening when Superintendent Reeder addressed those present.
Members of the association were astounded when they learned that in this thriving community that more than 200 children were being denied an education because they were not comfortably clothed. In most instances, the fact that the children have no shoes to wear is keeping them out of school.
The situation is to be taken in hand at once and a committee will probably be named in a few days to take up the work of providing these little ones with the necessary clothing. The ladies who were formerly active in the Council of Defense have been the first to act. A quantity of knitting yarn that was not used in the war work has been placed at the disposal of a committee to be named and to be knitted into garments for these needy little ones. The situation is in reality a startling one and will be given prompt attention.

MENDOTA MAN IS KILLED BY OWN GUN IN LEE CO.

William Hensler Stumbled and Charge Entered His Chest.

William J. Hensler, of Mendota, was killed almost instantly Friday afternoon about 5 o'clock, while hunting squirrels with a friend in Knox Grove near Sublette. His death is the first hunting tragedy of the season in Lee county. Mr. Hensler and Watson Bartlett left Mendota Friday afternoon about 1:30, driving to the grove to spend the afternoon squirrel hunting.
Arriving at the timber the men decided to hunt in different sections. Mr. Hensler starting in one direction and his companion another. Mr. Bartlett was the only person who knew of the accident. The men had made a circle of the timber and Mr. Bartlett was returning to their automobile when he heard the report of a shot gun. The report did not alarm him, but he walked in the direction of the report and soon came upon the body of Mr. Hensler, prostrate on the ground, the blood gushing from an ugly wound in the left breast.

Bartlett made a hurried examination and discovered that life was extinct. He examined his companion's gun, finding the right barrel discharged and the hammer of the left barrel raised. He lowered the hammer, extracted the shells and then started for the nearest farm house for aid. He went to the C. W. Dinges' home where he telephoned to the marshal at Mendota and also to Coroner S. J. Whetston at Steward. Coroner Whetston arrived at the Dinges home late Friday night and a jury composed of J. M. Ellsworth, foreman, E. E. Ellsworth, C. W. Dinges, G. M. Mills, P. P. Dinges and C. E. Walker, was empaneled. After hearing the testimony of Mr. Bartlett, the jury returned a verdict finding that death was due to the accidental discharge of a shotgun in the deceased's own hands while hunting. The body was taken to Mendota for burial.

Mr. Bartlett told the jury that he believed his companion stumbled over a dead limb or the root of a tree and in falling, accidentally discharged the shot gun, both barrels of which, most have been cocked and ready for action.

I. AND R. DRAWS THE OPPOSITION OF DRYS ALL OVER THE STATE

See Great Danger to Dry Issue in Plan Backed By Hearst.

"Dry" forces of Illinois are opposed to the Hearst "initiative and referendum" plan. The current number of "The American Issue," the official organ of the Anti-Saloon league, expresses opposition to the "I. and R." and the gateway amendment.
Dry voters are asked to vote "No" on both questions to be presented on the ballots of the Nov. 4 election.
"We believe candidates for the constitutional convention should not be pledged to any particular form of amendment covering the initiative and referendum propositions, but should be left free to consider all the facts which may be presented," says the editorial expression of the dry forces.
Point Out Defects.
"In our judgment some of the most obvious defects are as follows:
"All signers of petitions signed by 100,000 to bring questions to a popular vote might come from the city of Chicago alone, which is a dangerous proposition.
"The number of signatures required is too low. When we have complete woman suffrage, the proposed number of signers would represent less than 5 per cent of the voters.
"There is no safeguard to prevent a small minority from initiating and adopting laws, because some clique might initiate a proposed law which could then be ratified by a majority of those voting thereon. It might be an obscure proposition, containing a joker drawn by some shrewd attorney, and the mass of the people might not be informed of the true meaning. Therefore the proposition might be detrimental and yet be adopted by only a small minority of the total eligible voters."
Cites South Dakota.
The experiences of South Dakota are recounted by giving the following statement of Gov. Vessey:
"Every time a law is passed to improve moral conditions it is referred back to the people by the initiative and referendum invoked by the ragtag element, and eighteen months must elapse before it goes into effect even if, by reason of delay, its opponents are unable to bring about its defeat. Also it is expensive."
"The term referendum as herein used," continues the editorial, "means the power to suspend a specified act of the legislature by a petition of 50,000 electors at large until such act or acts shall have been referred to popular vote and approved by a majority of those voting thereon."

More Flaws Are Found.

"Some prominent defects are as follows:
"The number—50,000—is too small.
"It would permit the saloons or vice interests to prevent any remedial legislation from going into effect for eighteen months after it had been passed by the legislature."
"It would permit groups representing the underworld element to initiate the repeal of any law, no matter how long upon the statute books, and the repeal might be in the form of a joker in an apparently harmless bill, which would be difficult to detect, and it would be difficult and expensive to get the true situation before the state."

"Radical and Dangerous."

According to comment by O. G. Christgau, editor of The American Issue, "The form proposed by the I. and R. League for Illinois has no reservations whatsoever and is the most radical and dangerous form of the I. and R. ever proposed for any state."

Baby Finger Prints Finest Mural Art

By Associated Press Leased Wire
New York, Oct. 27.—Baby finger prints on the wallpaper are the finest example of mural art. This was the decision handed down in the Bronx municipal court by Justice Robitzek in dismissing a suit to recover alleged damages because a baby had embellished the interior decorations of an apartment by a frieze all its own.
"This would be a happier world to live in," the justice said, "if baby fingers could only make their imprint on the hearts of men and women. I would rather see the print of baby fingers on the walls of my house than have them adorned with the world's masterpieces."

Plans for providing strikers and their families with provisions have been made by union leaders. According to the program commissaries will be established at all strike headquarters in the district, and distributions will be made by the ration card system.

CANTON IS QUIETER

Canton, Ohio, Oct. 27.—Need for state troops now mobilized at Akron, only twenty miles distant, to take charge of the steel strike situation here which last week resulted in many riots in which workmen were injured, was said to be decreasing this morning.
Workmen in considerable numbers were seen entering the plants of both the United Alloy Steel corporation and the Stark Rolling Mill company today. The few pickets on duty did not attempt to prevent the men from entering the plants and appeared to be content in ascertaining the number of workmen entering. There was no disorder last night.

FEAR COAL STRIKE

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 27.—Leaders of the striking steel workers today discussed the probable effect of the threatened coal miners strike upon the steel industry and agreed in the opinion that it would further hamper the successful operation of the steel plants.
Official announcement that the rail mill at the Gary plant of the Steel corporation was to open today marked the beginning of the sixth week of the strike. This mill is the largest rail mill in the world and is regarded as the most important unit in the Gary plant. Another blast furnace was also scheduled to resume operation at Gary today making eight of the battery of twelve blast furnaces there to be in operation.
Mill officials declared today that the strike was virtually ended but strike leaders asserted that the plants were unable to produce anything like their normal output because of the absence of skilled workmen.

The department is awaiting more details.
"The Mexican government Saturday advised the American embassy that it would 'omit no efforts' to save Jenkins' life."

NATION WAITS UNION ANSWER TO PRESIDENT

Meeting at Indianapolis is Watched for Developments.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Springfield, Ill., Oct. 27.—The country waited today for the reply of John L. Lewis, acting president of the United Mine Workers of America, at his home here, to President Wilson's Saturday declaration which branded the strike of soft coal miners, threatened for November 1, as "unlawful" and called on miner's officials to rescind the strike order in the interest of public good.
On his return here last night from Washington, D. C., where eleventh hour negotiations between miners and operators failed to avert the impending mine tie-up, Mr. Lewis declared the "status quo" prevailed.

Hold Meeting Today

Interest turned today to a meeting of the International Executive Department of Justice Board at Indianapolis, called by Lewis before the President's statement, at which plans were to be made in furtherance of the strike. It could not be determined today whether any attitude toward President Wilson's "ultimatum" would be assumed by strike leaders prior to the executive board conference. Whether Mr. Lewis would issue a statement before conferring with other international miner's officials also was said.
Crush Toller's Efforts.
Declaring his own personal feeling on the president's attitude toward the proposed action of the miners, Mr. Lewis expressed the hope that the power of the government would "never be used to throttle and crush the efforts of the toilers to improve their material welfare and elevate the standards of their citizenship."
Lewis justified the demands of the miners as necessary and placed the blame for the breaking off of negotiation between the joint state committees squarely upon the operators.

NOTHING PERMANENT IN CONDITIONS IN FAR EAST, NO FOOD

American Official Tells Associated Press Gov- ernments Fail.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Paris, Oct. 2.—An intimate view of conditions in Eastern Europe is given by an American official just back from a tour through Poland, Czechoslovakia, Austria and later a visit to the Hungarian capital at Budapest. He says: "It seems inevitable that changes must occur in the governments of all these new states of Europe. None of them is stable. Everywhere is the intrigue and struggle for power and place on the part of cliques and individuals and beneath is the unrest and discontent of the masses. National independence has not brought Utopia and constitutions do not furnish bread."

"In Poland a strong opposition to Mr. Paderewski has developed. Besides this Poland will suffer from acute hunger this winter. Her people are supporting an army out of all proportion to the population to guard her frontiers and any incident may bring a clash with the Czechs or Germans. The Teutonic question is acute and both countries are strife. I doubt if a victrolite will get the satisfaction of permanently."

"In Czechoslovakia there is strong opposition to the present government which lacks strength in its personnel. The danger there lies, however, more in the growing jealousy of the Slavs. They have been thoroughly subordinated and resent the arrogant attitude of the Bohemians proper. Again, the drastic anti-German policy of the government is a source of danger. Czechoslovakia, in a physical sense is better off than any other country over here. She has ample food and fuel and is thus in a commanding position. Her industries can resume with little outside help. With a strong government that country should survive and prosper. Her danger seems to lie in probable racial antagonisms which will result in political confusion."

"As for Hungary, few people here believe it will survive as an independent country. Eventually union with Rumania seems now inevitable, either with its own king as vassal, or simply as part of the empire."

"The Rumanians were quick to see the powerlessness of the Allies and simply disregarded the communication from Paris. The so-called Inter-Allied mission, unaided by anything real, is a farce. The other day a letter was sent to the Rumanian commander by this mission, written in English, and he handed it back with the remark that he understood it in a language understood by civilized people."

Another Rumanian personage remarked that the Paris Conference had sent them a very impolite note to which they were forced to reply in kind. These are merely illustrative of the conditions there."

"Hungary will starve this winter. It is beginning to starve now. The Rumanians have stripped it utterly, from wheat to the printing presses. They control and censor the mails and wires and are in fact and deed conquerors."

"Among men with whom I talked in Budapest, there is a conviction that if Hungary survives it will be only under a monarchy. The peasantry want a king and the old reactionary crowd is powerful, acute and busy. The great handowners are still the great power and with the Church, form a powerful or sanitation. Recently one of the great dignitaries of the Church approached the Inter-Allied mission with a proposal to place the Duke of — on the throne of Hungary. In fact, there are any number of royal candidates in the offing waiting to see what will happen."

"As for Austria, every province and every district is a separate government by itself, acting independently and often in defiance of the Vienna government, which is actually controlled, as far as any control goes, by these workmen and soldiers' councils. Neither the Christian Socialists nor the Social Democrats have a majority in the Assembly so that the All-German party with its membership of about 39 has the balance of power and throws its vote to suit its own ends. There must be terrible suffering this winter. The country will be practically without fuel, and it is a rigorous winter climate. Food already is scarce and poor and daily increases in price. The hospitals are still without supplies, the death rate is high, and the streets literally filled with begging men and women and children. Highway robbery is prevalent, smuggling rampant."

"MR. MAN, MEET YOUR NEIGHBORS' MISS DEER, MR. ELK, MR. BRUIN"

The above introduction might well take place in or near Banff, Alberta, the capital of Rocky Mountain Park, the Canadian rival of our Yellowstone. Although Banff is a hustling village during the summer and is thronged with tourists, wild deer from the mountains are to be seen almost daily on the streets and often at night, stably. Elk—not the B. P. O. E. but the four-legged variety—leap from the roads into the bushes to escape an approaching automobile. If a Banff cottager expects to eat his own garden truck, he builds a deer proof fence around his patch. One might suppose that the animals would show some consideration for the sick, but not at all—this July half a dozen male deer made a rail on the flower garden of the Brett Hospital, which is open to the street. At shooting in the park is forbidden by law, the deer, being unmolested, have become very tame and even bears pay friendly visits to the village. Not long ago a bicyclist, speeding down one of the side streets at night, struck a dark object and turned a somersault or two before striking the earth. Sitting up, he looked around and discovered a bear hitting the trail for home as fast as four legs could carry him. Although tame and somewhat obtrusive, the deer, elk and bear do not relish too close an acquaintance and have proved themselves to be both picturesque and perfectly safe neighbors.

PRESIDENT APPEALS TO CITIZENS FOR A BIG RED CROSS ROLL

Open Letter Issued Tells of Need of Popular Support.

President Wilson has addressed the following letter to the people of the country appealing for support of the third Red Cross Roll Call, which is to be held from November 2 to 11:

"As President of the United States and as President of the American Red Cross, I recommend and urge a generous response to the Third Red Cross Roll Call which opens on November the second with the observance of Red Cross Sunday and appropriately closes on November the eleventh, the first anniversary of the signing of the Armistice."

"Twenty million adults joined the Red Cross during the war, prompted by a patriotic desire to render service to their country and to the cause for which the United States was engaged in war. Our patriotism should stand the test of peace as well as the test of war, and it is an intelligently patriotic program which the Red Cross proposes, a continuance of service to our soldiers and sailors who look to it for many things, and a transference to the problems of peace at home of the experience and methods which it acquired during the war."

"It is on membership more than money contributions that the stress of the present campaign is laid, for the Red Cross seeks to associate the people in welfare work throughout the land, especially in those communities where neither official nor unofficial provision has been made for adequate public health and social service."

"It is in the spirit of democracy that the people should undertake their own welfare activities, and the National Red Cross wisely intends to exert upon community action a stimulating and co-ordinating influence and to place the energies of the organization behind all sound public health and welfare agencies."

"The American Red Cross does not purpose indefinite prolongation of its relief work abroad, a policy which would lay an unjust burden upon our own people and tend to undermine the self-reliance of the peoples relieved, but there is a necessary work of completion to be performed before the American Red Cross can honorably withdraw from Europe. The Congress of the United States has imposed upon the Red Cross a continuing responsibility abroad by authorizing the Secretary of War to transfer to the American Red Cross such surplus army medical supplies and supplementary and dietary food stuffs now in Europe as shall not be required by the Army, to be used by the Red Cross to relieve the distress which continues in certain countries of Europe as a result of the war."

"To finance these operations, to con-

WOMAN'S CLUB MEETING—

The program of the Woman's club for the meeting held on Saturday, Oct. 25, was in charge of the Department of Literature and Art, with the Mesdames Newcomer, Beler and Dana, as hostesses. In view of the fact that this year is the centenary of Julia Ward Howe, half of the program was devoted to a paper upon her, by Mrs. Maude Chiverton.

The main facts of Mrs. Howe's life were given, the luxury of her early New York home, her association with people of culture, her marriage at the age of twenty-four to Dr. Howe, her travels, the publication of her first work, "Passion Flowers," anonymously and her early interest in the emancipation of women, in equal suffrage and women's clubs. The writing of the "Battle Hymn of the Republic," the inspiration of a night, was also dwelt upon. Mrs. Chiverton's paper was concise and clear, comprehensive without becoming wearisome, and very well given.

For the second half of the program, Mrs. Belle Egler gave Robert Herrick's "The Master of the Inn," length of the original story necessitated cutting by Mrs. Egler showed great care in her selection of the main ideas and in her unification of them. Her sympathetic rendition of the story evoked an attention no less sympathetic in her audience. The principal points of the story deal with the life of a physician who has founded an inn which is really a temporary home for the sick in mind and body. To quote Mrs. Egler, they are as follows:

The ethical value of the story, "The Master of the Inn," lies in the emphasis that is put on service, the Master's love for his fellow men, and his devotion to them. His elimination of self and power, his forgiveness and forgetfulness, are indelibly impressed on the reader's mind.

"The tragic experience which came to the Master in early manhood, was the means of shaping his later career and his familiarity with all men's woes," led him to dedicate his life to suffering humanity. From the "refuge of society" he created men. The romance depicts the greatness of the Master's character and explains the secret of his power."

Among those who were present were: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hunt and six children, of Franklin Grove; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dasher and two children, of Minooka; and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Anderson and two daughters, Aleta and Janet, of this city. Regrets, sent with a number of beautiful gifts, were received from children living in Chicago, Fargo, S. D., and Boulder, Colo. ## FURTHER PROBE OF AIR SERVICE BEGINS TODAY

By Associated Press Leased Wire
New York, Oct. 27.—Further investigation of irregularities in the army Air Service reported on at President Wilson's request by Charles E. Hughes, was begun here today by a special congressional sub-committee. It is a division of the committee on investigation of war department expenditures and consists of Representatives Frear, Wisconsin; Magee, New York, and Lea, California.

Members of the sub-committee said the chief matters on which testimony would be taken were the exonerations by Secretary of War Baker of Col. E. A. Deeds of Dayton, Ohio, whom Mr. Hughes recommended be court martialled; and the construction of a $4,000,000 railroad in the state of Washington to haul spruce for air craft production.

Among the witnesses summoned are John D. Ryan, formerly head of the Air craft Board; Pliny Fiske of Harvey Fiske & Sons; officials of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad and others.

NEW TAX BASIS O. K. SAYS COURT

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Springfield, Ill., Oct. 27.—Taxes for 1919, extended in Cook county on the basis of one-half the fair valuation of property, as provided in a statute in force last July, instead of on the basis of one-third the valuation, as under the old law, will stand, the supreme court ruled today. The effect of the decision was said to be state-wide.

In its ruling, the court denied the petition of Alma Campe, of Chicago, for a writ of mandamus against the Cook county board of review to compel the board to make the tax extensions on the basis of one-third the property valuation as in former years.

Joining with counsel for the board of review, Attorney General E. J. Brundage contended that to change the basis would produce an anomalous tax situation in Illinois, inasmuch as every tax rate in the state was reduced by the legislature in order to result in no tax increase when the basis of assessment was altered.

The statute attacked in the Campe suit was enacted by the general assembly last winter to enable cities to increase their bonding power by removing a constitutional obstacle.

SANDRA THE JEALOUS

By JANE PHELPS.

EVERETT JUNIOR, CHAPTER XIX.

Everett never had been thoughtful—I did not know it was in him. Although I recalled that whenever I had been ill he had been considerate. Perhaps he thought when I was well, I didn't need consideration.

Without my knowledge he had sent for Mother and she came about two weeks before my boy was born. I was so delighted to have her. Now it seemed to me I never should be unhappy again. When I held my boy in my arms I forgot all the mean things that people had said when Everett married me. I forgot his neglect, and was as happy as the day was long.

Mother remained with us until Everett, Jr., was two weeks old, then she went back to dad, who never was happy if she were away from him. Everett had hired a competent nurse, and after mother left she took entire charge not only of me but of the baby. At first it seemed only natural that this should be so, but by the time baby was a month old I had commenced to resent her rule and Everett's insistence that she should be obeyed.

"He is my baby! I ought to have something to say," I complained. The nurse was a woman about forty-five years old, rather austere, and terribly determined. Dad would have said she was "set in her ways."

She seemed to think it was bad for the baby to be cuddled or rocked. And if I started to walk about with him in my arms, she was as shocked as if I had committed murder.

When I spoke to Everett about it, he said:

"You are too young to know anything about raising a child. Miss Lane has been a nurse for years. I insist that you do as she says."

"I wasn't too young to have the boy, if I am too young to have anything to say about him!" I retorted, more hurt than angry. "And Miss Lane never had a baby; she doesn't know now."

drastically a mother wants to love and cuddle her very own child."

"Miss Lane has had wide experience. She has cared for many babies, and the doctor assures me is one of the very best nurses on his list—a long one. I have hired her to remain permanently—that is, until she refuses to stay longer. I hope you will be careful not to say or do anything to make her leave us."

"You mean she is to stay right along? I thought we would have a nice young nurse, a girl like Hetty, for him when he was a little older."

"I shall run no risks with my son. We shall retain Miss Lane."

Our conversation ended for the time, but my heart was filled with resentment toward Miss Lane, and also toward Everett. He had said: "I shall run no risks with MY son," just as if the baby belonged entirely to him. He might have said "our son," I thought, my eyes filling.

Was my precious baby to be another cause for unhappiness between us, instead of the joy I had supposed he would be? I loved my darling boy passionately. And to have Everett shut me out by saying "MY boy," and to have that woman who didn't know how it felt to be mother of a baby tell me what I couldn't or could do with him, was maddening.

"I won't stand it!" I muttered, yet I knew down in my heart I should have to stand it, just as I had had to endure

other things in my life because Everett would I should.

I wondered dumbly if other wives had such emotional ups and downs as I had—if others had to have the sweet periods offset by periods of unhappiness caused by inharmonious with their husbands.

THE IRISH QUESTION AGAIN.

The "suspension act" under which the operation of the Irish Home Rule act was postponed for the period of the war goes automatically out of existence on the signing of the last treaty of peace, which will come about within the next five or six weeks.

The British government will have the choice either of declaring the Home Rule act in force as it stands in the statute books today, or of introducing amendments which will throw the question back upon the floor of parliament. The government is said to have decided upon the latter course, not to save taking action disagreeable to it itself, but in order to make the proposition more agreeable to the Irish who have linked themselves to the movement for complete nationality.

The Irish question has altered its complexion extremely in the years since the war began. The Sinn Fein movement has developed from a sort of parlor fad interesting to dilettante
intellectuals more than to any others
into a robust, man-sized campaign
which touches the hearts and imaginations of thousands of Irishmen, not merely at home but also wherever the Irish have emigrated or gone into exile. The Nationalist party has been overwhelmed. Seventy-three men elected to the British parliament have declined to take seats on the ground
that that parliament has no legal authority over Ireland. Sir Edward Carson has taken firmer stand against what he calls "disunion." Rebellion has created new grievances and new bitternesses.
The journey has been made to the Peace Conference, and the Conference has employed its adroitness at doing
nothing in its most masterly manner.
In short, what seemed a comparatively simple question in the summer of 1914
has in five years become one of the most vexed and complicated political problems of the world.

Whatever the British government
may do when its six weeks are up,
whether it elects to take action which will force decisions or lays out an elaborate campaign of dodging, the Irish question will be brought nearer to solution. It will be placed in the hands of men who must chart a course of some sort even if that is highly disagreeable to them and the problem will pass for a time out of the hands of in-responsible newspapers and orators.
The period of controversial statements
and words highly belligerent is nearly over, to be succeeded by a period in which something will be done.

DUKES, DANCERS AND HODCARRIERS.

There is increasing evidence every day that the world is getting back to normal. The delectable Gaby Deslys arrives on our shores, and after seeing to the unloading of several tons of trunks and chartering a dozen rooms
at some gawdy hotel, summons the gentlemen of the press and announces that although the Duke De Crussol—whose dukedom is the Lord knows where—
has followed her from Europe and protested his undying love daily for months, she will have none of him.
The procedure smacks somewhat of previous efforts to attract the limelight.
Compared with King Manuel, who is popularly supposed to have thrown away his throne to make Gaby smile or glide or something or other, the Duke De Crussol is a piker. The world at present is uninterested in love-lorn
dukes, but if Gaby should happen to be compelled to deny her engagement to some good, honest hod carrier—why that would be worth reading and the newspapers might run some pictures—
of the hod carrier.

NATION WAITS
UNION ANSWER
TO PRESIDENT

tween now and Nov. 1 that will avert
the strike.

CONSIDER STRIKE MEASURES

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, Oct. 27.—Measures to meet the situation which would result
from the threatened strike of bituminous coal miners Saturday were considered today by administration officials.

No reply from officers of the United Mine Workers of America to the demand of President Wilson that the strike be called off is expected until after the miners' executive committee
meets at Indianapolis Wednesday, but meantime officials took cognizance of the statements of union leaders that it would be physically impossible to withdraw the strike order by Nov. 1.

Plans Are Secret

The administration's plans for dealing with the strike naturally will not be disclosed until the strike has developed.

"To announce now what the government will do in the event of a strike,"
said one official, "would be to play into the hands of the bolshevik element. If you are going to start a great offensive
you do not tell the other fellow what you are going to do."

While it is the purpose to keep a
"strong hand" on the radicals, officials
made it plain that caution should be exercised not to antagonize the more conservative element. In this connection
they said that many of the miners' demands might be just.

"It is the means they use to obtain
their demands to which we object," said
a high official.

HAS TO BE SHOWN.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Pittsburgh, Kan., Oct. 27.—"I would like to see this new power that will make the coal miners work whether they are able to obtain a living wage or not," Alexander Howat, president of the Kansas Union Miners, declared today.

SUSPENDS CANTON MAYOR

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Columbus, O., Oct. 27.—Governor Cox
today suspended Charles E. Poorman, mayor of Canton because of alleged inefficient handling of the steel strike
riots in that city, and appealed to a committee of Canton business men to rally
around Vice Mayor Schrantz.

FORCE IS NOT FEARED.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Springfield, Ill., Oct. 27.—Prefacing
his announcement with the statement
that he had received no communication from government sources as to President Wilson's stand against the threatened strike of soft coal miners,
November 1, John L. Lewis, acting president of the United Mine Workers of America, today declared "the widely heralded intimation that force may be resorted to will not serve to allay the crisis."

"The threats to prosecute and incarcerate myself and associates will neither prevent the strike nor terminate it if it occurs," Mr. Lewis said.

Visited at his home here, where he came last night seeking rest, Lewis
stated there were no new developments in the strike situation. He was keeping in touch with international headquarters at Indianapolis by long distance telephone.

"There is even yet a way in which this strike may be avoided," Mr. Lewis said. "The government should assemble the coal operators and use its power and influence to secure from them for the miners a just consideration of their demands. An agreement could be reached within three days if the coal operators would approach the question in good faith and with open minds."

Lewis declared the refusal of the operators to negotiate a new wage agreement and their insistence that the present contract does not expire until April 1, 1920, was the crux of the whole matter.

Defends Miner's Demands.

Defending the demands of the miners
for more pay, Mr. Lewis said in seven and a half years mine workers had enjoyed wage increases of only 37 1/2 per cent whereas steel workers had been given increases reaching 117 per cent
since 1914.

"During the twelve months since the signing of the armistice the average wage of the bituminous mine workers
does not exceed $800 a year or the equivalent of $75 a month," Lewis declared.

Says Wilson Is Wrong.

"President Wilson is again incorrectly informed when he says that the proposed strike was not taken by the sanction of the membership of the United Mine Workers of America," President Lewis stated. "The Cleveland convention held in September had 2,044 delegates representing local unions called
there for the specific purpose of passing on the merits of our wage demands.
These delegates were elected by the local unions and were responsible only
to the local unions for their action.
Consequently, they were, insofar as our union is concerned, as truly a representative body as is the congress representative of the American people."

Mr. Lewis said he was "astounded to know of the action which the President has taken," and expressed the opinion that it is "without precedent, and, insofar as I am aware, without warrant
of law."

Refusal of E. H. Gary, chairman of the board of the United States Steel corporation, to arbitrate the steel strike
issues was mentioned by President Lewis as analogous to the attitude of miners' officials in the mine crises.
Judge Gary reiterated his refusal to permit any mediation or even to refer matters to arbitration," declared Lewis, "and the government permitted the country to be involved in a great steel
strike without protest."

Mr. Lewis said it was possible that district presidents in states comprising
the central competitive field—Indiana,
Ohio, Illinois and western Pennsylvania
—might be called into the conference
Wednesday at Indianapolis of international executive boards members. The attitude of the government, he stated
would be given attention. Lewis will leave Springfield for Indianapolis in the course of the day, tomorrow, he said.

SENATE DISCUSSES STRIKE.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, Oct. 27.—The coal strike
was discussed briefly today in the senate. Senator Thomas, democrat of Colorado, asked unanimous consent for immediate adoption of his resolution, proposing a declaration of full support of congress to the administration in its efforts to meet the situation and to preserve law and order, but on objection
of Senator Borah, republican of Idaho,
the measure went over. Senator Borah
said he was not willing to commit himself in advance to a n unannounced program of the administration in dealing with the threatened strike.

Senator Thomas announced that he would call up the resolution again tomorrow.

President Wilson's statement on the strike was commended by both Senators Thomas and Borah, but the Idaho
senator said the administration had announced no definite program, adding that if it was the purpose to use the militia to "decimate people" he would oppose it.

Senator Borah today told the senate
he was thoroughly opposed to the attitude of Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel corporation,
and his associates in refusing to deal with labor. Senator Thomas also said he disapproved of Mr. Gary's stand, but added that congress should act at once
to assure the administration of full support in dealing with the coal strike.

Propose Exemption.

Senator Edge, republican, of New Jersey, proposed repeal of the antitrust laws exempting labor organizations from prosecution.

"It is strange," said Mr. Edge, "that at the very time when labor was squaring off—in some cases, I fear, taking
the law in its own hands—the senate
should pass legislation exempting it
from punishment if it violates the antitrust law."

Senator Edge said labor was not really employed by capital, but by the public, which must pay the exorbitant
wage demands now being made.

Fuel Supply Unknown.

Director Hines has not disclosed except to the cabinet, how long the transportation system of the country could operate if the supply of fuel should be shut off.

Endorse Wilson's Stand.

Applause from both democrats and republicans greeted an announcement
in the house by Republican Leader Mondell when he "most thoroughly and most heartily" endorsed President Wilson's statement regarding the strike.
The announcement was prompted by an inquiry of Representative Aswell, democrat of Louisiana. Mr. Mondell sought to have the President's statement printed in the congressional record, but Mr.
Aswell objected.

The general industrial situation was
the subject of the prayer in the house
by the Chaplain, the Rev. Henry N.
Couden.

ATTY. CHAS. BARGE

Dixon relatives have received word
that Attorney Charles Barge, who had been in France over a year as Red Cross Commissioner, arrived in New York Friday from that land. He stated in his message to relatives here that because of the harbor strike he was
from 7 a. m. until 6 p. m. getting ashore.

NATION'S DRY LAW
GOES INTO EFFECT
TOMORROW MIDNIGHTLid Will Be Clamped on Tight Under Federal Regulations.

When Uncle Sam's new prohibition
law goes into effect tomorrow, the lid
will be clamped down tight, and the man who takes a chance selling a drink
may find himself facing a fine of from $100 to $2,000, and from 30 days to two years imprisonment. There are a number of "do's and don'ts" that the man who would make his own liquor must remember. Here are set forth the salient points of the new law:

What You Cannot Do.

Make or sell wine, beer, gin, whiskey,
or any beverage containing
one-half of one per cent alcohol.

Store any such liquor in room or rooms of hotel, lodging house or any building a part of which is used for business purposes.

Make or sell any spirituous, vinous,
malt, or fermented liquor compounds,
whether medicated, proprietary, patented, or not, and by whatever name called, containing one-half of one per cent
or more of alcohol by volume which are fit for use for beverage purposes.

Get a liquor doctor's prescription calling for more than a pint.

Get a liquor prescription oftener than
every ten days.

Get a liquor prescription from any person but a physician holding a permit
to prescribe intoxicating liquor.

Accept or receive a consignment of liquor.

Advertise by any means liquor, its manufacture or sale.

Advertise, manufacture, sell or possess for sale any utensil, contrivance,
machine, preparation, compound, tablet,
substance, formula, directions or recipe advertised, designed or intended for use in the unlawful manufacture
of intoxicating liquor.

Possess any property designed for the unlawful manufacture of liquor.

Transport intoxicating liquors in any
wagon, buggy, automobile, water or air craft, or other vehicle.

What You Can Do

Manufacture, buy, sell, or store, beer,
ale, or porter, containing less than one-
half of one per cent alcohol by volume,
provided that they are called by some other name than beer, ale or porter.

Manufacture, buy, sell or store wine
containing less than half per cent of alcohol.

Manufacture, buy, sell or store sweet
elder and vinegar.

Manufacture liquor for non-beverage
purposes and wine for sacramental purposes after having applied for and received permit from commissioner of internal revenue.

Get permit to make and sell patent medicines and flavoring extracts containing alcohol.

Distribute wine for sacramental purposes, or like religious rites.
Industrial plants may receive permits
to manufacture and sell alcohol to be used exclusively for other than beverage purposes.

You Can Be Punished

For violation of any or all sections of the "National Prohibition Act" by fines
of from $100 to $2,000, and by imprisonment of not less than 30 days to two years. The lightest punishment goes to first offenders.

The Big Exceptions

No search warrant shall issue to search any private dwelling occupied as such unless it is being used for the unlawful sale of intoxicating liquor, or unless it is in part used for some business
purpose such as store, shop, saloon, restaurant, hotel or boarding house.

The term "private dwelling" shall be construed to include the room or rooms
used and occupied not transiently but solely as a residence in an apartment
house, hotel, or boarding house.

It shall not be unlawful to possess liquors in one's private dwelling while

the same is occupied and used by him
as his dwelling only and such liquor
need not be reported, provided such liquors are for use only for the personal consumption of the owner thereof and his family residing in such dwelling
and of his bona fide guests and further
provided that such liquor was not unlawfully acquired, possessed and used.

These exceptions have not been interpreted by the commissioner and may or may not be held to include home liquor
manufacturing plants used for brewing,
distilling, making hard cider or wine
for strictly personal use. They however,
make it unlawful to store liquor in one's private dwelling and to serve it to bona fide guests.

The Law

Enforces the War Prohibition act and the eighteenth constitutional prohibition act. It is called the National Prohibition act.

Most of the act becomes effective Oct.
28. Some few sections become effective after the amendment is attached to the federal constitution, Jan. 16, 1920.

HUNT FISHERMEN
WHO KILLED U. S.
AIRMEN IN MEX.Indescribable Sufferings of Yankee Fliers Withheld.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
San Diego, Cal., Oct. 27.—The funerals of Lieutenants Cecil H. Connelly and Frederick H. Waterhouse, American aviators who flew into Mexico August 21 and subsequently lost their lives, will not end the tragic story begun at that time. In Washington and in Lower California, Mex., measures were going forward today to apprehend the Mexican fishermen accused of murdering the two aviators for a few dollars they possessed
when they were lost.

The identity of the accused men is known both to Mexican and American officials. It was announced officially last night when the aviators' bodies were brought here on the destroyer Aaron Ward, after resting some days in shallow graves near Bahia Los Angeles.
Lower California and Washington dispatches said that because of the friendly relations existing between the American government and Governor Estaban Cantu of Lower California, comparatively little difficulty was anticipated in apprehending them.

The aviators' record of their sufferings, smothered on the wings and fusel-
age of their plane, had not been given out in full by army officers today. Their nature was such that requests were made of the press that descriptions of them be not published out of consideration for the dead officers' families. Brief descriptions of how they lost their way
in a rain storm and of some of their efforts to catch fish for food and to reach safety, however, were given out. From Joe Allen Richards, a mining engineer,
who first reported discovery of the bodies, copies of their last messages to their mothers were obtained.

One especially pathetic phase of the aviators' hardships was that at one time they were within twelve miles of the American-operated mine where they might have found food and safety.

ITALIAN SCIENTIST
ATTACKS NEWTON'S
GRAVITATION THEORYAdvances New and Revolutionary Theory as to Celestial Bodies.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Rome, Sunday, Oct. 26.—Newton's theory of gravitation has been attacked by Prof. Majorana, at a meeting of prominent scientists here today declared the results of experiments he had performed upset the hitherto accepted
laws of physics governing the motion of
celestial bodies.

Newton's theory, while hitherto considered absolute, is only an appropriate hypothesis, according to Prof. Majorana who supports this assertion by showing that a ball of lead floating in mercury
becomes slightly lighter.

From this the professor deduces four things:

First, that bodies have both a true
and an apparent mass, the true mass of the sun being double the apparent
mass.

Second, that the stars attract other bodies with forces entirely different from those thus far admitted to exist.

Third, that the solar heat of stars is generated by the force of gravitation emanating from interior strata. From this he argues the solar system has had an immensely longer life than has been
believed by scientists up until the present.

Fourth, that the evolution of the world has been closely linked to the phenomenon which he has discovered.

Professor Majorana explains by this means the fact that all stars are more or less luminous, and claims that his theory will bring about a revolution in astro-physical science.

War Zones.

By J. M. KAUFMAN.

The most dreadful winter in history confronts the hundreds of thousands of innocent sufferers from world war ravages in eastern and central Europe and in Asia unless America responds, and responds generously, to the appeal from across the sea for money, food, fuel and clothing.

Constant hunger among the millions of Jewish sufferers from the war has not been unusual for the last four years or more in Poland, Lithuania, parts of Russia, the Balkans, Jugoslavia, Czechoslovakia, Roumania, and Palestine and this has been and still is, in a measure, being alleviated by generous American dollars.

The most pitiful appeal arises from the millions of children. Herbert Hoover, head of the Interallied Food commission, has called attention from time to time to the terrible condition of countless youngsters whose only food is perhaps a glass of condensed milk and a bit of hardtack once every twenty-four hours.

The immediate effect on one who observes these conditions at first hand can only be imagined. Think of a six-year-old youngster patiently awaiting for hours, in his turn in the long line outside a public kitchen, eyes wistful with childish lack of understanding as to why he cannot have something to eat when he is so very hungry.

But, while the immediate need of these little folks is touching beyond word, the possibilities of the future welfare of all these peoples, and consequently of the nations in which they live, is an economic problem that cannot be ignored. Malnutrition naturally produces infant mortality to a degree little less than terrible; and these little boys and girls who are actually dying day by day, of starvation, are the future men and women of these nations!

The furnishing of a simple meal once in twenty-four hours requires continuous aid from this side. In Poland alone more than 200,000 Jewish children are hungry, and a steady stream of gold with which to buy, and of food that cannot be purchased there, must go overseas to keep these little mouths partially supplied with food.

Shoes and clothing are essential. An effort will be made partially to solve this problem for the little folks by the adoption of a rationing system which will be much like that by which food is apportioned.

The constant hunger is steadily sapping the vitality of the small folks, and this, combined with the lack of proper clothing, bedding, and medicines, offers a splendid chance for epidemics of typhus and other destructive diseases to reap a ghastly harvest.

The feeding, clothing and supplying with fuel of the countless thousands will require immediate financial contributions. But there are other phases of the dreadful need. Orphanages, hospitals—these must be supplied with necessary medicinal and surgical equipment.

One phase of the whole situation which touches the relief representatives with compelling force is the pathetic faith which the stricken peoples place in the generosity of America. Hungry, war-weary eyes are looking across the seas to the world's "big brother" for help. The cry of a hungry baby is world-old and knows no religious, racial or color lines. Will America turn a deaf ear to this appeal?

The appeal for funds in Illinois will be made the last week in October. The quota for this state is $1,500,000.

NICHOLSON'S APPEAL

Urges All to Aid in Humanitarian Work.

Illinois' Quota, $1,500,000, to Be Raised the Last Week in October.

"I AM JOSEPH, YOUR BROTHER."
By Meredith Nicholson.

So long as there is misery and heartache in the world the world is not right. The thought that as I walk the streets of this prosperous and happy town there are six million people in other lands without food, shelter or raiment is disturbing. I do not like it. The fact that these people are a long way from my house does not lighten my responsibility for their plight, for the great war has so knit humankind together that wherever a man, woman or child of any race is hungry or homeless or the victim of cruelty, there, indeed, is my neighbor.

Of all the passions of men, that which manifests itself in race hatred is the most despicable. The business of civilization is incomplete so long as one man anywhere hates another because of his faith, his blood or his color. When I read, as I have read all my life, of the persecution and slaughter of the Jews I am not proud of my own race or of my religion.

The most beautiful story in the world is the story of Joseph and his brethren. I wish that every child who knows and loves that story might contribute to the fund of the Jewish Relief Committee. The lessons of tolerance, forgiveness, mercy and helpfulness are summed there with incomparable art. Let us ponder a little.

What we should do with this appeal from the land of famine is to give generously of corn, "and put every man's money in his sack's mouth. And put my cup," said Joseph, "the silver cup, in the sack's mouth of the youngest and his corn money."

That was Joseph's idea—to add to the value of his gift by putting his heart into it.

This appeal is not to Jews or Christians, but to humanity. It should be a high privilege for those of us who have so long enjoyed the hearty cooperation of our Jewish fellow-citizens in every good cause to prove to them now our neighborliness and our appreciation of their generosity.

The public spirit, patriotism and liberality of the Jewish people of this country needs no advertisement. They have rarely asked our aid in their benevolences, but always they have helped with ours. All the more readily we should respond to this cry for help which they utter not in the name of their own people, but for all who dwell in the lands of famine and desolation.

Six million people perishing. There's not much joy in that for you and me. Let the sacks be filled, and Joseph's cup, the silver cup of love and brotherliness and good will, be thrust into the top of every sack.

This story was written by Meredith Nicholson as an appeal for funds for the American Jewish Relief Committee. Illinois' quota is $1,500,000, which amount will be raised the last week in October.

Importance of Good Health.

Good health of itself, to be sure, does not sum up the whole secret of personality. But it is a most important element, as you will presently appreciate when you adopt rules of living that result in a distinct bettering of your health. You will begin to feel more self-confident. You will attack business problems more masterfully. You will find it far easier to sway others by your personal influence.—H. Addington Bruce, in Chicago News.

History of the Melon.

Melons were first extensively cultivated in France early in the seventeenth century, but were known to the ancients from the commencement of our era. The Egyptians grew them. They are said to have been carried to America by the Portuguese.

NEWS FROM DIXON

The gym classes at the "Y" have been going for three weeks and so far some 90 men and boys have enrolled in the different classes. While this number is small, due to the fine weather, it is steadily increasing and the coming week should see a big improvement. Interest in the class work is rapidly increasing and the boys are getting into the swing of things with real enjoyment. So far the Junior "B" gym classes has got it all over the other classes, having enrolled about 80% of their membership in the class and the attendance of those enrolled at class sessions runs 95%. The other boys will have to hustle if they want to equal this record.

The boxing and wrestling class, under the direction of Daniel Wolf, will have its first session Tuesday evening, Nov. 4, at 8:00 o'clock, and will continue for fifteen weeks. This class, open to all men and boys of the association over 12 years of age, gives promise of being very popular.

The gym classes in session today are high school and intermediates at 4:00 p. m., business men at 5:15 p. m. and seniors at 8:00 p. m.

Ladies' Bowling Hours

The ladies' bowling hour at the Y will be on Friday of this week from 2:30 to 3:00 p. m. Next week and the weeks following they will meet at the same hour on Wednesday. Any Dixon woman who wishes may come to bowl at that time. Those desiring further information may obtain same at the Y.

Teachers vs. Preachers

On Saturday evening the high school teachers and faculty and the preachers bowed a match at the Y. M. C. A. alleys. Neither side was able because some of the best men were out of town, to put forth its best team. The preachers did to draft Mr. Kuhn to fill out the team. The parsons won the two first games and the match. However at an early date these two teams will try conclusions again.

To Play Rock Island

The gymnasium classes show a steady increase in attendance and interest. The business men are warming up to the volleyball matches. At present a trip is being planned to Rock Island to play the Y at that city. Dixon once won a game from its larger opponent and the Dixon men are of the opinion that it is time to repeat the performance.

To County Convention

A number of the members of the Y are to attend the County Y. M. C. A. convention which is to be held at Amboy on Wednesday of this week. At that time the work of the county organization will be reviewed and plans for the present year's work explained. K. A. Shumaker, state Y. M. C. A. secretary will be the speaker of the evening. The convention will open with a banquet in the Congregational church at 7:30 p. m. Any Dixonians who wish to attend may secure further particulars at the local Y.

Boys Had Fine Supper

The scramble supper in the Y boys' department last week was a thorough success. About 75 of the members proceeded to make short work of mountains of food in the form of sandwiches, cake, fruit, etc. After the eats were disposed of Horace Mulkins sang a solo which was followed by an illustrated talk by Mr. Der Kinderen.

Meaning of "Selah."

The word Selah, which occurs so frequently in the Psalms, is usually believed to be a direction to the musicians who chanted the Psalms in the temple. Matthewson, the great musical critic, wrote a book on the subject, in which, after rejecting a number of theories, he came to the conclusion that it is equivalent to the modern "da capo," and is a direction that the air or song is to be repeated from the commencement to the part where the word is placed.

John Egan, of Amboy, was in Dixon Saturday.

Illinois Professor Discovers an Alloy Calls It "Ilium"

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Urbana, Ill., Oct. 27.—A new metal alloy that can be substituted for platinum or gold where acid resisting metals are required has been discovered by Prof. S. W. Parr of the department of chemistry of the University of Illinois. The new alloy, which professor Parr has named "Ilium" in honor to the university, costs approximately 25 cts. an ounce whereas the cost of platinum recently was $140 an ounce and gold $40 an ounce.

The first mixture of Ilium was made in April, 1917. This was not entirely satisfactory but early in the next year a fifty per cent standard of success was obtained. Now a piece of the metal has been kept in acid for six months while the acid has been made hot and cold, dilute and concentrated, and the metal has shown no sign of change.

Last year it was used with marked success and the calorimeter bombs used in measuring the heat units in coal which the government has ordered in large quantities now contain Ilium instead of platinum. Other alloys, it is said, have been found too brittle and can be cast but not machined like Ilium.

There has been a contest among chemists to discover a cheap alloy that would not corrode. Professor Parr said, "and big advances were made in this line during the war. Many chemical experiments require vessels which will stand up under acids and heretofore platinum and gold have been the only metals that would meet these requirements. Their purchase price has become prohibitive for experimental purposes; hence the efforts find a substitute."

EXPECT HOT GAMES BETWEEN STERLING AND DIXON ASSNS.

Some mighty interesting contests between Dixon and Sterling Y. M. C. A. athletes are expected this winter, as a result of the conference of the employed officers of the two associations last week, at which time a tentative program for the inter-association meetings was arranged. There will be a series of volleyball, basketball and bowling contests between teams from the senior and junior departments of the two associations, the dates to be announced later. The Dixon business men's volleyball team has never been defeated by the Sterling bunch and the association in that city would give almost anything to break that record this season.

Philadelphia Plans Busy Day for Alber

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 27.—Arrangements for the visit of the King and Queen of Belgium to Philadelphia today did not leave an idle moment for the royal guests of the city. The program called for a five hours stay between the royal party's arrival from New York and departure for Washington.

After being welcomed by Mayor Smith and a committee of citizens, the city's official reception called for a drive from the railroad station to Independence Hall where every preparation was made to give the Belgian monarchs and Prince Leopold ample opportunity to view the Liberty Bell, inspect the Declaration Room and visit the old supreme court room and banquet hall in the ancient and historic building.

STERLING HIGH SCHOOL MOURNS, SMILES VANISH

Their Crack Foot Ball Team Defeated By
Dixon, 13-0.

There is supreme mourning among the students of the Sterling township high school today; wailing and gnashing of teeth have become the favorite sports of the students of that institution and the members of the school's football team have taken to sackcloth and ashes. The progress being made on the $65,000 addition to the high school building is ignored and the students gather in groups to discuss in whispers the great tragedy which befell the Orange and Gold pigskin shooters Saturday afternoon.

Never was Sterling so confident as it was Friday evening and Saturday until about 3 p. m. There was no suspicion anywhere that the Sterling football team would not have another victory to its credit after it had played the Dixon high school football team at the West End ball park in that city Saturday afternoon.

But there's many a slip between the kick-off and the goal. Dixon tackled the fast Sterling team on its own grounds and before its own crowd and when the pushing and kicking and shouting were all over Dixon had amassed 13 points, and Sterling had got just what the little boy shot at. The teams were evenly matched a sto weight, but Dixon showed a little more reliability in handling the ball, which accounted for the victory. A return game will be played in Dixon in a few weeks.

Successor to Bishop Sage Favors Ads to Fill the Churches

The Rt. Rev. James Wise, D. D., Bishop of Kansas, who was appointed to fill the office left vacant by the death of Bishop John Sage, formerly of Dixon, announces that he favors church advertising to fill the pews. A great many churches are turning to this method and the Saturday papers in many towns and cities are full of church ads. Bishop Wise's views are expressed in the following clipping:

The Rt. Rev. James Wise, D. D., bishop of Kansas, who spoke on the nationwide campaign of the church on Sunday morning at St. Chrysostom's Episcopal church, 1424 North Dearborn street, is a firm believer in the policy of newspaper advertising for churches.

"Churches that advertise are the churches with well filled seats," Bishop Wise asserts, "and the well filled church is an inspiration to the pastor and to the congregation. For every empty seat in the unadvertised church there might be a man or woman helped immeasurably by the service if something had been done to get them there."

Bishop Wise, who until the Detroit convention was bishop of the diocese of Kansas, was elected bishop of the entire state, including the missionary district of Iowa, made vacant by the death of the Rt. Rev. John Charles Sage, D. D. The Rev. Norman O. Hutton, D. D., rector of St. Chrysostom's, has announced Bishop Wise's talk on the nationwide campaign for 11 a. m.

LONDON PAPERS COMMENT UPON LABOR CRISIS

See Strange Coincidence in Similarity of Events.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

London, Oct. 27.—Morning newspapers give a large amount of space to the American labor crisis and parallels are drawn with the present situation across the Atlantic and industrial events in Great Britain since the first of the year.

"The general resemblance is remarkable," says the Chronicle, which suggests some profound underlying rhythm in the causation of labor unrest. "We fear President Wilson's illness will make it extremely difficult for him to meet the demands of the situation," the newspaper adds.

Announce Strikes Same Day

The Daily News remarks upon the coincidence of the strike in the American bituminous field, which was announced the same day that British miners began their campaign for nationalization of mines at a meeting held at Manchester. "As far as American workers are aiming at a reasonable improvement in the standard of living, this coincidence is a satisfactory one," says the newspaper. "The imminence of the labor conference at Washington has a direct effect upon this object, as the conference will be able to recognize the urgency of the problem and evolve some policy tending to its solution."

"Is Second Solution"

The labor organ, the Herald, says: "The second industrial revolution now is taking place. The first deprived a man of his individuality and made him part of a machine to manufacture profits; the second to restore individuality, insure a man the results of his own labor and of his master's machine. That is the explanation of the American unrest and of similar unrest in our country."

You Already Know

It is the Dainty Enclosed Model of the Car Men Everywhere Praise so Highly

The Essex Sedan

A legion of friends waited the coming of the Essex Sedan. It came, already known, in a sense. The touring model foretold its quality and performance. It hinted the dainty beauty to be expected.

So men bought the first Essex Sedan, unseen, solely on what they knew of the touring model.

Now it Speaks for Itself

More than 1500 Essex Sedans are now in service. Every day more than 100 new Essex owners are added. Of these a large proportion get Sedans. It is becoming the popular all-season car.

Just hear what owners say of the way it excels its promise. Their chief joy is in its nimbleness. Abundant surplus power handles the extra weight of the Sedan with ease.

That is why many buy it, who formerly found enclosed cars too sluggish to be desirable.

Big Car Performance Small Car Economy

These days everyone is talking about the Essex Sedan. You will hear much that may lead you to regard it as a large, high-priced car, because owners in describing it invariably compare it with big costly cars.

Their speech reflects the spaciousness of its interior; its luxury finish; its solidness and quiet riding ease. All qualities usually regarded as exclusive to big, expensive cars.

Yet the Essex is not a large car. It has the wanted big car qualities. But it also enjoys such advantages as upkeep economy, handling ease and liveliness, that are exclusive to light weight cars. Any motorist knows that such quality, material and workmanship, would be impossible in a big car at the Essex price.

Essex Size No Bar to Supreme Performance

One owner writes: "The Essex proves that size is no more essential to fine performance in a motor car, than in a watch. It is just the best car qualities in a small case."

The Essex was designed as just such a car. How it met our aim is best answered by what thousands who own and know the Essex say of it. Come and ride in the Sedan. See if you, too find the appeal, that won so many admirers.

Women like its daintiness. The finish and pleasing appointments gratify discriminating taste. It is the sort of car you instinctively expect to see in any gathering of fine motors.

But it is Essex performance and endurance that must always appeal strongest to men. Power for the hills, speed and endurance to which no distance is a barrier, alertness and prompt pick-up in crowded traffic—these are qualities which will always win the affection of thorough-going motorists.

Another member of the Essex family that will especially interest those to whom smartness, combined with supreme performance appeals, is the Essex Roadster.

From the first Essex popularity has been the motor sensation of the year. Because in the Essex men found qualities they never hoped to obtain except in high-priced cars.

With two buyers waiting for every Essex we can produce, it is obvious that you must act promptly to secure an early delivery.

MYTHICAL AMERICAN ARMY HELD FIVE FRESH GERMAN DIVS. ON SECTOR FEARING ATTACK

Story of Clever Trickery by a Few Yankees Who Made Huns Believe a Great Force of Fresh Soldiers From United States Were About to Begin a Great Offensive in Etain Region East of Verdun.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

With the American Forces in Germany, Oct. 1.—Tricks of the game of war are coming to light from time to time as each side tells its story. One of the most successful of them was practiced by American forces in the Meuse-Argonne battle last fall when the last great Allied offensive was at its height from Switzerland to the sea. An imaginary army conceived by a handful of American junior officers was "thrown into the field" over night and for days five crack German divisions just east of Verdun in the Etain region were kept on their toes momentarily expecting an attack which never materialized.

At a dinner table in a Coblenz cafe, overlooking the Rhine, an American intelligence officer recently told the story of the creation of the "mythical X army" as it was called. It appears that the Germans were expecting an attack in the Etain sector at any time, and the Americans knew it; but at that phase of the game the First United States Army was devoting its energies to driving the enemy out of the Argonne forest and the hill country on either side. So the mythical army was created, in preference to a real diversion, requiring many men, to convince the German commander that it would not be wise to weaken the Etain front to the benefit of the Meuse-Argonne front where a desperate battle was proceeding.

Fresh Hun Divisions

Five fresh divisions had been placed by the Germans on the Etain line. These constituted their last and finest reservoir of available divisions. The Americans realized that the minute the Germans decided that this was not a danger point, any or all of the five divisions could be withdrawn, replaced by exhausted and fragmentary divisions coming from the battle fronts, and that the appearance of the fresh troops in line west of the Meuse would have a tremendous effect on the American offensive.

The "X army" was assigned to a front from Bezonvaux to Fresnes. From the morning of October 22 until just previous to the armistice this army "functioned." Captain Charles H. Matz of Hubbard Woods, Ill., was command-in-chief. Captain William H. Dearden, of Springfield, Mass., and Washington, D. C., was chief of staff. Lieutenant John H. Graham of Lexington, Va., was chief of "troop movements." Captain O. W. Neidert was in charge of G. I. or administration; and Lieutenant H. T. Griswold of Old Lyme, Conn., was chief of artillery. The staff of the X army were all members of the intelligence section of the First army and of course, before beginning operations, had secured the consent of their chief, Colonel Willey Howell.

Gave Huns Code-Keys

The wireless and the telephone were freely used to convince the Germans that the Americans were preparing for an attack in the Etain sector. To make sure that the Germans would be able to "break into" the code used the Americans furnished them with a satisfactory key.

One wireless station, of the X army, was established in a clump of woods near Verdun and was christened "headquarters of the X army." This station functioned until the end of the game, all "orders" to the army going out from this place by wireless. Soon after the station began working the Germans located its whereabouts and frequently shelled the woods and vicinity, apparently in hopes of breaking up the radio of this latest of annoyances.

The X army also had a portable radio station, which moved about and represented itself as a different station every day or two.

Foiled French Too

The sector in which the X army was at work was directly under command of the Thirty-third French corps, and the roving wireless station caused considerable excitement among the French soldiers as it sent messages to make the enemy believe that several fresh American divisions had moved into the area. The French unaware of the plans of the X army staff, at times thought the Americans had lost all sense of reason and on several occasions so reported the wireless plants.

The first message from the X army headquarters was a general despatch to all wireless stations in the army area, none of which actually existed in the new code, of course, directing that none of the stations answer or make any use of their sending instruments, for fear of enemy locating them but to be on the alert at fixed hours to receive messages. The effect was to warn the Germans that a large number of wireless stations must have been set up and to advise them of the hours when the enemy intercepting stations should be on the alert for the American messages.

This was followed by a series of messages designed to indicate that the X army was preparing for a full fledged operation. In order to inform the enemy of the geographical limits of the sector of the X army, many messages were directed to imaginary officers at existing towns on the Etain front.

Stations Worked Overtime

Meanwhile the roving wireless station was working overtime day and night. It began sending out messages in the Fresnes sector and trying to give the impression that it was several stations at widely separated locations. One message in particular was peculiarly designed to add to the enemy's suspicion of the approaching trouble—an imperative demand for 200 copies more additional of the Conflans sheet, "Plan Director map." This could only be interpreted by the Germans, the Americans agreed, as preparation for a coming drive on the Briey iron center. The army also had in operation, on the front between Bezonvaux and Fresnes, a telephone squad—a careless squad which set up telephone stations here and there and sent messages and talked shop and gossiped at night about the arrival of some old friend from America with such and such an outfit.

The X army telephone squad took no chances that the Germans might not hear the conversations. The Americans desired them to record. They deliberately grounded their wires, so the enemy could "listen in" and crawled out into no man's land in the darkness and hooked one of the American wires over onto a German barbed wire in front of an abandoned trench system. In the front line of modern warfare the telephone is the most dangerous instrument for both sides devised apparatus which within certain limits can pick up conversation over enemy line with which it is not even connected. So the Americans felt certain that all their conversations were heard by the Germans.

Sent Over Airplanes

Two days after the X army began functioning, the results began to be noticeable, the nervousness on the part of the Germans being exhibited in many ways, the enemy first sending over a large number of airplanes to make reconnaissance. The Germans also began a series of trench raids, to obtain prisoners for the purpose of identifying units of the forces opposite them. German prisoners captured by the French told of wild alarms in the night on the part of the German forces, hurried reinforcements of the main line of resistance and various other movements which indicated that the enemy was expecting extreme watchfulness on account of the activity of the little army being operated by a handful of Americans.

When the armistice became effective November 11, the little American mythical X army, still held its ground in the field near Verdun, and opposite five crack German divisions stood their guard not even suspecting that they had been tricked by a handful of ingenious young Yankees who were delighted at the results obtained by their mischievous schemes which had worked so successfully in deceiving the wise old German veterans of a five year war.

HARMON

The Harmon Domestic Science club met with Mrs. Emil Janssen Thursday afternoon. The meeting was opened by a report by the organizer, Mrs. R. W. Long, on the state meeting. This was especially enjoyed. The report as given shows the state wishes the people in school districts to organize and work in conjunction with the school and teachers in that particular district. The decision on this matter was deferred to another meeting. Roll call was responded to by salad dressing recipes. This was followed by a report of the last meeting by the secretary and a paper read by Mrs. Barbara Clymer. The next gathering will be held November 13th at the home of Mrs. R. W. Long. Mrs. Charles Greutzmacher entertained the Social Circle on Friday. The time during the social hour was consumed in making quilt blocks. The business meeting was called to order as usual by the president. ## THE PRINCE OF WALES—TITLE AND MOTTO

THE PRINCE OF WALES.

Washington.—In connection with the visit to America of the Prince of Wales, the National Geographic Society has issued, from its Washington headquarters, bulletin relating how the British crown prince acquired that title, and also the origin of his famous insignia, three ostrich plumes and the motto "Ich dien" (I serve).

"The story of the title borne by the heirs to the British throne dates back to the days of Llewellyn, the last of the Welsh princes when that country still had a quasi-independent status," the bulletin says.

"In Welsh legend, song and story, Llewellyn is a veritable King Arthur, and his brother, David, was the traitorous Modred of his court. Since Henry III, of England, had invested his heir, afterward Edward I, with all the English royal claims in Wales, it might have been supposed that Llewellyn would try to placate the young prince. The battle of Evesham, fought while Henry III was yet living, had resulted in many concessions to Llewellyn.

"But Llewellyn incurred the displeasure of Edward by casting his lot with the famous Montfort family, and pre-empted what was considered a direct affront when he announced his betrothal to Eleanor de Montfort. More-over he declined to attend the coronation of Edward.

"Within two years after that coronation—just 500 years before the American Declaration of Independence was signed—Edward concluded a vigorous campaign in Wales with the treaty of Conway by which Llewellyn had to sign away of the privileges he had won a decade earlier.

"For five years Wales was quiet,

Then David, who had aided the English king against his brother, headed a revolt against English rule, set a torch to Hawarden Castle, and precipitated a war in which Llewellyn was killed, and Edward was conqueror of Wales.

"There was an ancient prophecy that the Prince of Wales some day would be crowned in London. In mockery of that it is believed, Edward had Llewellyn's head brought to London and wreathed in ivy to show the people.

"While Edward was making sure of his subjugation of Wales by building a string of castles, Queen Eleanor joined him, and in the newly completed Carnarvon a son was born, who became the first English Prince of Wales, and later was King Edward II. According to a popular story the conqueror exercised his grim humor by promising the Welsh a prince who could speak no English, construed to mean a native son, until Edward announced, upon the birth of his son, that the infant was the Prince of Wales in question.

"Whether that story be true or not, the heir apparently was not formally invested with the title until he was seventeen years old. Ever since the heir to the British throne has been known as the Prince of Wales, though usually he has been invested with the title, and not so endowed upon birth.

"No less romantic is the story of the insignia and motto of the Prince of Wales. Here again historians do not fully credit the generally accepted story. Certain it is that another Edward, known as the 'Black Prince' because of the armor he wore, adopted the feathers and the pledge.

"The point of doubt is whether he actually did stumble over the body of the valiant John the Blind, of Bohemia, after the battle of Crecy, and was so struck with admiration of the sightless warrior who had his charger attached to horses of his companions so he might not fail in loyalty to his ally, Philip of France, that Edward plucked the insignia from his enemy's uniform and swore to wear it forever after.

"At least Edward's own bravery on that occasion, and his chivalry upon many others, make it entirely plausible that he should acknowledge the valor of an enemy. It was the first battle of magnitude in which the young prince had engaged, and his father, Edward III, watched from the crest of a hill, holding reinforcements in leash while his son fought against great odds. King Edward explained that he wanted his son to win his spurs in battle, nor did he wish to deprive him of credit for the victory.

"The victory was most decisive; though one may discount somewhat the chroniclers who reported that the King of France fled at nightfall with only five knights and sixty soldiers, leaving more than 40,000 dead and dying men on the field."

AMUSEMENTS

"I LOVE YOU"

"I Love You" is the sentimental title of the attraction which comes to the opera house, Friday, Oct. 31. This comedy satire from the pen of William Le Baron comes with the unanimous recommendation of both the New York and Chicago critics who recognize it as one of the brightest, smartest and cleanest farces of the past ten years. G. M. Anderson, the producer, "Broncho Billy" of motion picture fame, is sending a highly efficient cast to this city and one that is admirably versed in the ability to exact the maximum of merit from a play that abounds with distinctive farce roles. So capable a critic as Amy Leslie of the Chicago News named "I Love You" as "the most brilliant farce since the early days of Augustin Daly." And her fellow critics in the metropolis were equally as generous in their applause of Mr. LeBaron's deftly drawn satire on the foibles and fancies of the ultra-rich social class.

Miss Emma Schumm went to Chicago Saturday to remain over Sunday visiting with friends.

Look and Feel Clean, Sweet and Fresh Every Day

Drink a glass of real hot water before breakfast to wash out poisons.

Life is not merely to live, but to live well, eat well, digest well, work well, sleep well, look well. What a glorious condition to attain, and yet how very easy it is if one will only adopt the morning inside bath.

Folks who are accustomed to feel full and heavy when they arise, splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, and instead, feel as fresh as a daisy opening the sluices of the system each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnation matter.

Everyone, whether ailing, sick or well, should, each morning, before breakfast, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus clearing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleanses out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast. While you are enjoying your breakfast the water and phosphate is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and getting ready for a thorough flushing of all the inside organs.

The millions of people who are bothered with constipation, bilious spells, stomach trouble, rheumatism; others who have sallow skins, blood disorders and sickly complexions are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store which will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pronounced crank on the subject of internal sanitation.

SALTS IF KIDNEYS OR BLADDER BOTHER

Harmless to flush Kidneys and neutralize irritating acids—Splendid for system.

Kidney and Bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then act normally again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink, which quickly relieves bladder trouble.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night just to keep right. Try them. 10c and 25c.

We do anything in the job printing line. Letter heads, bill heads, envelopes, sale bills, catalogues, calling cards, etc. B. F. Shaw Ptg. Co., Dixon, Ill.

GRAY HAIR BECOMES DARK AND BEAUTIFUL

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, at very little cost. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

The weather conditions of yesterday and today served to induce several Dixon sport lovers to the ponds and streams in the neighboring vicinity in search of ducks and geese. Thousands of the birds were in flight yesterday morning, headed in a southerly direction, but shooting was very poor on account of the birds flying high. Some were fortunate enough to bag a few but no large quantities were brought down. Large flocks of geese passed over Dixon during the night, some of these settling in Rock river until morning, when they continued on the southern flight.

CORN DISPLAYED STRENGTH TODAY

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Chicago, Oct. 27.—Decided strength manifested itself today in the corn market, and there was active buying on the part of commission houses and shorts. Wet weather and higher quotations on hogs and stocks were bullish influences. In addition, the railroad permit system and acute shortage of cars tended to curtail receipts and to hoist prices. Opening figures, which ranged from 5c to 17c higher, including December at 1.26 1/2 to 1.27 and May 1.23 1/2 to 1.23 1/2, were followed by material further gains. Oats ascended with corn. After opening 1/4c to 3/4c higher, including Dec. at 71 1/2c to 71 1/2c the market continued to harden.

Provisions like cereals and hogs were on the upgrade. Trade, though, was light.

On the advance, December delivery reached the topmost point since Sept. 24. The market closed unsettled, 3/4c to 1 1/2c net higher, with December at 1.27 1/2 to 1.277 and May 1.23 1/2 to 1.23 1/2.
